

Update: Coming out Story

It has currently been a month and a half since my Coming Out Post and now I have an amazing update.

Earlier this month my uncle got released from jail. Which means all hell is going to break loose. My mother finally found out that I was gay by my uncle. It all happened while I was working my mom called the store and asked if she could speak to me. As I went to the office the managers asked why she sounded sad. I picked up the phone and asked my mom if everything is alright, she responded with "Is it true" not knowing what happened and being jokeful I answered with "I guess". She stopped me and told me to be serious for once and that my uncle told her that I was gay. My heart dropped and I didn't know what to say so I said "I'll talk to you when I come home."

A few hours go by and I arrive at home my mom is sitting on the couch watching Bridesmaid and she tells me come have a seat next to her. She then tells me that my uncle told her everything from the posts to the likes on my instagram, everything. I told her that all of that was true and she asked me why I was hiding it and I told her that I was frightened by the way she was going to react to it. She said "If you would have told me earlier I would have been okay with it" but my step dad on the other hand was all calm and said "I knew it since the day I met you". As I started to tear up she said "I'm okay with you being gay, it's just that it came to me as a surprise and we both know it's not god's plan but if you want to be happy be happy it's your skin". Once she said that I felt like a big pile of bricks just came off my chest and I was so relieved by the fact that my family was okay with me being me.